Wang Purchase Date Delayed

By Robert E. Finneran
Editor

A legal problem involving land proposed for development by Wang Laboratories in West Andover has resulted in delay of signing a purchase agreement by the Merrimack Valley based computer company.

Wang has proposed to purchase over 100 acres of land off River Road for development of a $10 million building to employ 2,000 people, and has received initial approval from Andover Industrial Development Finance Authority, to obtain funding through industrial development bonds.

But, the legal problem involving access and ownership of over 40 acres in Andover has resulted in delaying the purchase and sale agreement signing to Feb. 8.

Atty. Edward Grayson, counsel and Wang vice president, said he felt the legal problem could be resolved, but if not by Feb. 8, "then maybe the date would again be extended."

The problem involves a proposed deed which contains some restrictions on the future development of 33 acres off River Road.

The property is held by Russell G. Doyle and is subject to a probate court agreement conveying over 30 acres to Patricia Doyle. Russell would retain approximately ten additional acres with frontage on River Road.

No deed has been agreed upon or signed. Patricia Doyle has an interest in the 33 acres granted by the Probate court on Sept. 7, 1971 and not yet complied with.

A hearing asking immediate compliance with the Sept. 7 agreement by Russell Doyle has been filed in Essex County Probate Court and is scheduled for hearing on Feb. 5, unless agreement can be reached prior to that date.

The petition was filed by Atty. David M. Wright, counsel for Patricia Doyle.

Russell Doyle said Tuesday that the sale of the land is tied up with land that was made available to Patricia. Certain understandings have to be reached between legal authorities before the agreement can be finalized and deeds filed, Doyle said. There are a few things which have to be resolved. He said he did not feel the Wang project would be held up.

He said the first he knew of the interest in the property by the computer firm was when he read it in the newspapers.

He said the various legal parties are working on the matter at present. Doyle said he could not comment further until he was comfortable with the agreements.

Atty. Grayson said he did not believe the legal matter would present problems. "There are always some type of problems dealing with property containing large acreage. We try to do our homework with regard to conformance to bylaws, utility easements and all matters pertinent to land purchased. Part of the land in the total parcel is not conveyed, so we extended our purchase agreement signing to Feb. 8 and feel the matter can be resolved. If not resolved by then, we probably would extend the date further," Grayson said.

Wang officials appeared before the Andover IDFA on Jan. 7 seeking and receiving approval for $10 million in industrial revenue bonds to develop the 106 acres in West Andover and part of Lawrence. The property is to the rear and side of the Vocational School property.

The Andover facility which is to be built in three to five years, would be approximately 200,000 square feet and provide employment for up to 2,000.

Board Closes Doherty This Year

By Linda S. Corbett

Doherty School, which Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert called "one of the finest elementary schools in this country today," will be closed as an elementary building, come September.

The decision of whether or not it will be turned into a junior high now rests with spring town meeting.

Meanwhile, plans for redistricting Doherty youngsters, and absorbing Doherty programs and faculty into other schools, are underway (see separate story).

The choice of Doherty was made unanimously by the school committee Tuesday night, before a surprisingly subdued audience of some 650 parents and faculty in the West Jr. High Auditorium. Many wept, more from being sad than mad.

School Chairman Elaine Viehmann led off with a lengthy presentation on the pros and cons of the three contenders for closing — Doherty, Sanborn and South — in terms of site, structure, cost and impact.

But it remained for the superintendent to make the recommendation.

"You can honestly say you have a great school," he told Doherty supporters. "But I'm looking to the future." He said the Doherty pupils would hate leaving, but that "you find out early in life that there are good people no matter where you go."

While Doherty is an "excellent" elementary school, Seifert said it would be a better junior high than either Sanborn or South. He said it would better fit the educational criteria, and it offers the most flexibility for the future.

It also has the best location, he said, both "historically and geographically."

The school committee took up the matter of a closing, but postponed discussion on Seifert's other recommendations:

- That if town meeting decides NOT to fund the junior high, the school committee reconsider WHICH elementary school to close.

- That Bancroft become a developmental school for Grades K through 6, open first to Bancroft and former Doherty pupils, and then to the rest of the town.

- That a comprehensive secondary school in-service program be launched toward flexible scheduling and flexible grouping.

Viehmann reviewed the history of the building program and emphasized that while other school committeemen may have weighed some factors as more important than others, these were the kinds of things they had taken into account in their decision-making.

Site And Location

In terms of site and location, Viehmann gave Doherty pluses for size, existing playing fields, access from all directions by car, safety via sidewalks, and the fact that the present East Jr. High pupils would not have to be "displaced."

The primary negative for Doherty, she said, was that the walkers would be eliminated and busing costs would go up (only 70 Doherty pupils are now bused).

She gave Sanborn and South double pluses for site and said that in neither case would the busing costs go up significantly. Both, however, would require at least $600,000 for construction of playing fields, as well as enormous off-site expenses to improve roads and sidewalks. At South, she said, even with improvements, it wouldn't be "that safe."

She gave Sanborn a "double minus" because it would require the most redistricting, causing the most junior high pupils to be displaced.

Structure

She rated the current quality of the Doherty and Sanborn buildings with a "plus," but noted that there were more structural limitations at Doherty because of its two-floor construction. South turned up with the most structural difficulties, beginning with poorer quality construction, a need for renovations that would take funds away from construction for special junior high spaces, difficulty in circulation, and its "inappropriateness" as a junior high because of low ceiling joists that would cause both "discipline and safety problems" among older youths.

Sanborn offered the easiest transition to junior high spaces.

Impact

Viehmann rated the loss of Doherty programs as a double minus, but gave its accessibility to downtown a double plus. Both Sanborn and South had the advantage of being in areas where the junior high enrollment would grow: Sanborn got a double negative for its inaccessibility to town.

Viehmann said the costs were pretty

Recycling Represents Savings

By Virginia Cole

Reading the Wall Street Journal early in January I found some answers on the subject of recycling steel cans. On the one hand, the steel industry is beginning to see the value of recycling. In their battle with the Aluminum industry for the $4 billion a year beer and beverage can market, savings on raw materials and energy become very important.

But, recycling a steel can is more complicated than recycling all aluminum cans. In the first place steel cans must be lined with tin to prevent acids in beverages from eating into the steel and spoiling the contents. So steel must be de-tinned before being recycled. And also the ends of beverage cans which are made from aluminum (to make self-opening cans) must be cut off and separated out from the steel.

As costs of energy go up and more and more aluminum is recycled, the aluminum-steel battle for the can industry may well make it more profitable for the steel industry to promote recycling of steel cans. For us in New England that day hasn't come as the nearest de-tinning plants are in New Jersey and transportation becomes the big factor.

So for now, buying in glass or aluminum is the only way we can recycle and save energy. Food does come in glass and both clear and colored glass can be successfully re-used. Andover Recycling collects clear glass the second week of each month in front of your house on your regular trash day. Colored glass, green in one bag, brown in another, is collected on the fourth week of the month.

Andover Recycling has saved from the solid waste stream, saved you from having to pay to have 121 tons of glass buried somewhere since last July. Over 75 tons of clear glass was collected and sold and 45 tons of brown and green glass. In the first half of 1979 when we were collecting cans and glass mixed, we only had about 80 tons so this is a great record. The tonnage varies quite a bit each month. The high was 30,300 pounds last August right after Andover Recycling took over the program and had lots of publicity. We had a low of 18,000 pounds in October when we had some pick-up problems. We are on the up-swing again now. Please call us if you are having pick-up problems, and join a winning team.

The Davison Family wishes to take this opportunity to express its long overdue appreciation to all who have contributed to the Fund at the Andover Savings Bank.

You have been more than generous during this trying time. We are happy to say that the future looks bright. May you all enjoy a healthy and happy New Year.

Senior Citizens Matinee

A special performance for all senior citizens and grandparents of the cast and crew of "Toga! Toga! Toga!" will be produced Jan. 30, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. at the West Junior High Auditorium. There will be no admission charge.

The drama club of West Junior High School, under the direction of Mrs. Doris Bernardin, is presenting this comedy about a high school fraternity, Alpha Beta, and what happens when the principal, faculty advisor, health inspector and troublesome neighbor come to visit the rooming house with its weird inhabitants.

The public performance will be held Friday, Feb. 1 at 7:30 p.m. at the West Junior Auditorium.

Town House Topics

Presidential Primary Registration

Final registration dates for voting in the Massachusetts Presidential Primary election have been set by the Board of Registrars of Voters.

The board will be in session on Saturday, Feb. 2, from 12 noon to 8 p.m. in town hall and on the final day, Tuesday, Feb. 5, from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. in town hall.

Those registering should bring some form of proof of residence, such as a tax or utility bill, to facilitate the process.

Weather Aiding Finances

While skiers and winters sports enthusiasts have suffered somewhat with the mild New England weather this year, municipalities have benefitted with savings in storm expenses.

Andover public works crews have generally had somewhat of a workout by this time of year combatting snow and ice conditions throughout the town.

But, with the exception of some road icing last week and a sort of "nuisance" snowfall Tuesday, only the sanding crews have been on the road.

Crews were patrolling the streets throughout the night on Tuesday salting and sanding where necessary to combat slippery conditions.

Ice Follies Trip Planned

On Wednesday, Feb. 13, the Andover Council on Aging will sponsor a Senior Citizen trip to the Ice Follies at the Boston Garden. Cost for the trip which includes bus fare and the best seats in the house is only $9. Buses will leave Andover at 12 noon and return at 5:30. Call the Andover Senior Citizens Center at 475-3968 for further information.

Greece Comes To Andover

The Andover Senior Citizens Center begins an Armchair Travel Series on Thursday, Jan. 31 at 2 p.m. These slide talks will give audiences a vivid impression of people who lived in rural communities around the world.

The first presentation in the series will highlight Phebe Ham's travels in Greece. The slides depict village life in the southern Peloponnesos and on the islands. Scenes of weaving, making cheese, picking grapes, and harvesting wheat. Photographs of mountain settlements reached only by foot or by donkey, Saint's days and other festivals. Greek refreshments will be served.

Street Names Approved

The planning board found no fault Tuesday with names assigned to new roadways in town.

The board accepted the name Shattuck Road for the street leading to GCA and Intel off River Road and the change of name of Craig Drive to Germano Drive for a street in the Pendelton subdivision.

Both will be formally accepted by the board after they have been approved by the fire chief, who will check that they are not easily confused with already-named streets.

Industry Permits Expected

Two of Andover's newest industries are expected to file for building permits by the end of the week, according to Community Development Director Rhy Kear-

The GCA corporation and Intel have their foundations in and will be ready to begin above-ground construction soon. Kear told the planning board Tuesday.

Open House At Peabody Museum

The Friends of R. S. Peabody Foundation for Archaeology will be holding an open house for the public Sunday afternoon, Feb. 3, from 2 to 5 p.m. This event will be held at the Robert S. Peabody Foundation Museum, at the corner of Main and Phillips Streets, one mile south of Andover Center.

The public is invited to tour the Museum, view the displays and meet the officers, members and museum staff.

The newly — formed group of Friends intends to develop a varied program over the next few months and plans to support museum activities, sponsor monthly activities such as lectures and field trips, and help to disseminate information to promote the conversation of local historical and archaeological structures and sites.

Anyone interested in touring the Museum or information about the Friends program is encouraged to attend.

Reading Group To Meet

The winter workshop meeting of the Merrimack Valley Council of the International Reading Association will be held Wednesday, Jan. 30, at the Windsor Restaurant in Dracut. Registration will begin at 4 p.m. Activities include a choice of four workshops, materials exhibit and sale, and a buffet dinner. Featured speaker will be Dr. Thomas Devine, whose topic will be "Teaching Study Skills, Grades 4-14."

Membership in the Merrimack Valley Reading Council is open to any individual interested in issues concerned with the field of reading.

The Yale Glee Club, an 80-member chorus of men's and women's voices directed by Fenno Heath, will sing at Phillips Academy on Friday, Feb. 1. The public is invited without admission charge to its 7 p.m. concert in Kemper Auditorium, Chapel Avenue.

The program will feature songs by Hindemith and Randall Thompson, a motet by Brahms and part of an A Capella Mass composed by Director Fenno Heath. Right after intermission Phillips Academy's Fidelio Society will sing, and the Chorus will join the Yale Glee Club on stage for Randall Thompson's "Alleluia." Spirituals and folksongs and a Yale song will complete the program. The 107-year-old collegiate singing group has served as ambassador of good will and good harmony on many international singing tours.

This summer the Yale Glee Club, which includes Judy Sizer, 18 South Main St., Andover, plans a five-week tour of European concerts. Sizer pointed out that it was very appropriate for the Glee Club to sing in Andover, since six PA graduates were among the 13 Yale students who founded the distinguished collegiate singing group in 1861.

Academy Faculty Recital

Sunday, at 3 p.m., in the Addison Gallery, the music department of Phillips Academy will present a Faculty Recital featuring William Thomas, cello, and Christopher Walter, piano.

Thomas, chairman of the music department at the academy, is a graduate of Oberlin Conservatory of Music. He received his Master's degree from Pennsylvania State University. Familiar to audiences for the Addison Gallery concert series, he is also a frequent performer in the Boston and North Shore areas. This past weekend he was invited to be conductor of the Eastern Massachusetts District Orchestra.

Walter, an instructor in the Language Department, spent two years at the Royal College of Music in London, where he received an ARCM degree. He has given concerts in London as well as throughout northern England.

For this concert Thomas and Walter have chosen works by Richard Strauss and Robert Schumann. Admission is free and the public is invited to attend.

Tryouts For Play

The Billerica Christus Players met on Jan. 13 to choose their spring production, "Mixed Doubles" by Fred Carmichael, a comedy in two acts.

There are four men and five women in the first act, and seven men and six women in the second act.

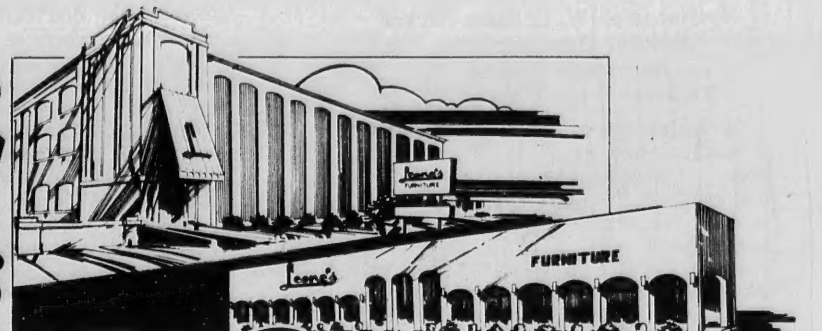

The two acts consist of two interwoven stories. In the first, a middle-aged couple, recently separated, show up at a Mexican motel with prospective new spouses. In the second, one room is occupied by a golden age couple and the other room by a widow, her brother and the ashes of her husband.

Tryouts will be held Jan. 27 and 28 at 7:30 p.m. at Dale Hall, behind the First Congregational Church, 18 Andover Road, Billerica.

A rainfall of one inch over one acre is about 27,000 gallons of water.

Who Pays For Our Public Transit

By Randolph W. Lehman-Becker
Andover Representative
Merrimack Valley
Regional Transit Authority

The bottom line of any transit operation is always: who pays? In the old-style system of private operators, the answer to that question was that either the users paid for the service or else the operator lost money.

But, as the present energy-transportation situation has developed, it has become apparent that often the fare-box support has been insufficient to support a transit system. If that were the case, we would see fares for local trips of $1-2.

Instead, communities, with the aid of state and federal funds, have banded together to provide transit as a public service just as education, water, sewers, highways, and other shared assets are provided.

In the case of our local regional transit authority, the Merrimack Valley Regional Transit Authority (MVRTA), our funding is a combination of fare receipts, local community support, state funds and federal operating and capital funding.

At its most recent meeting, the Advisory Board of the MVRTA approved the annual request for federal funds, including the capital expenditures portion, looking for between 50 - 75 percent funding on the various categories of programs. Much will go for operating expenses, but there will also be funds sought for a centralized bus maintenance facility, improved bus stop signage, new waiting shelters at key locations, and rehabilitation of existing bus fleet.

In addition, on many projects an additional 25 percent will be added for operating expenses by the Commonwealth, and full funding for the operating expenses of our rail service.

But, when we deduct the fare-box receipts from expenses, and then apply the 50 to 75 percent of the federal government, and the 25 percent plus of the Commonwealth, that often leaves us with a deficit of anywhere from 0 to 25 percent. Who pays that?

That becomes the local share; it is the obligation of the communities that use the MVRTA, and is assessed only for services rendered in that community. In other words, we in Andover have to pay our deficit share on our elderly/handicapped service, and for our local bus service. We do not pay for Methuen's more extensive service, nor for Haverhill's larger system. We pay for our own local commitments.

Obviously, the advantage for the local community is that it can use these outside matching funds to reduce its obligations down from 100 percent to only 20 to 25 percent on many programs.

The operation of the MVRTA is, by state statute, governed in policy by its Advisory Board, and that Advisory Board has appointed votes on it from the member communities delegated according to the amount of deficit underwritten. For example, Andover at the moment has slightly more than 11 percent of the vote on the board by reason of last year's share of cost borne by Andover.

So, the bottom line is that the whole society pays for the public transit, through federal and state income tax, and through the local taxation, as well as the fare-box payments of users.

And who benefits?

The whole society as well, as public transit offers an alternative to individualized, energy in-efficient systems of transport, providing access for all people within our cities and towns, and to more distant points.

Planner To Complete Survey

The Andover Historical Commission has hired a planner to finish the survey of Andover houses and buildings which was started in 1976 under a grant from the town.

This grant has now been supplemented additionally by a grant through the Massachusetts Historical Commission from the U. S. Interior department, making it possible to employ professional counsel. After interviewing many candidates for the position, the Commission has chosen Wendy Fonteiro of Gloucester.

Fonteiro's received a bachelor of arts degree from the University of North Carolina, and a master's degree in Preservation Studies from Boston University. Her experience has included neighborhood surveys, administration of Sargent House Museum in Gloucester, and most recently, directorship of the Gloucester Development team which inventoried with documentation and photography 450 buildings and 200 streets in a local resources book on Gloucester's architecture, neighborhoods and preservation.

Over the next seven months, this project which will produce for the Town of Andover, an up-to-date survey and a preservation plan, recording for posterity its historic buildings and districts.

Since much of the survey will require volunteer help on the part of many people, anyone who wishes to work with the Commission on this project, may contact Marcia Booney at the Andover Historical Society or any of the other Commission members: P. K. Allen, chairman; Mrs. David Thompson, secretary; Stanley Butcher, Lawrence Gross, Franklin Haggerty or John Lewis.

Jaycees Sponsor Bloodmobile

"Have a heart" and join with the Andover Jaycees in donating a "pint of life" at the first annual Bloodmobile to be held on Tuesday, Feb. 12 between the hours of 4 p.m. and 10 p.m. at East Junior High (cafeteria). Donors should be between the ages of 18 and 66. Donors between the ages of 17 and 18 may give if accompanied by a written parental consent.

While the need for blood is always present and ever-increasing, only 3 to 5 percent of potential donors actually give. The Jaycees take this opportunity to urge your participation and remind you that by giving your time to donate a pint of blood you may help an accident victim or someone suffering from anemia, cancer, hemophilia, heart disease or any one of many other illnesses. A single pint of blood may be used to benefit as many as four patients.

So, if you know you are physically able to give, reserve Feb. 12 as your blood donor day.

39 YEARS OLD AND HOLDING.

When asked his age, the late, great Jack Benny's reply was as predictable as the morning sun. . . "39 of course". We know that Mr. Benny was kidding and we know that no matter what we do, 40 is right around the corner and then 50 and 60. And we also know that those later years could be tough without a sound retirement plan. At Andover Savings Bank, no matter what your age, we can help you plan for retirement with a high interest bearing IRA (Individual Retirement Account). If, for example, you're not presently eligible for your companies qualified pension plan, or your company doesn't offer one, then a high yielding, tax-deferred IRA Account is just what you need because it lets you save on personal taxes now and save for your personal retirement at the same time.

So, no matter what your age, call Andover Savings Today at 475-6103 for complete information on personal retirement planning and remember. . . it's not how old you are, it's how old you feel.

P.S. If you're a self-employed individual, and are interested in personal retirement planning, ask about the Andover Savings Bank KEOGH Plan.

Planners View New Bylaws

By Tim Greene

A bylaw which would establish building restrictions in areas designated historic by the National Register was proposed Tuesday to the planning board by Community Development Director Rhys Kear.

The bylaw as proposed would require zoning board of appeals special permit for all construction in a historic area except building of a single-family home on one lot.

Kear told the board that the proposed bylaw change was prompted by Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark who had received several requests from Shawsheen residents for protection of their village which is on the National Register.

National Register status already puts restrictions on roadway development in an historic area.

A request for a $6000 study of what to do with Pomp's Pond was among other proposed warrant articles which Kear will present to selectmen Monday for insertion in the Spring town meeting warrant.

Kear described the pond as "25 feet deep with 20 feet of muck in the bottom" and in hot weather the water depth drops to four feet.

Clearing the muck out of the bottom of the pond, draining it, mixing it with sand and selling it for loam was one of the possibilities for improving the pond.

A similar operation was performed in Virginia where Kear used to work. Three million cubic yards of muck were removed from the east branch of the Lynnhaven River and sold for loam, profiting the town that sold it $5 million, Kear said.

Kear said this was just one of many possibilities which the $6000 would help study. "Practically speaking, something must be done about Pomp's Pond if it is to remain the town swimming facility," Kear told the planning board.

The pond, closed last summer because of an infestation of an algae called anabena, will probably be opened for swimming at the beginning of the summer, Kear said. Closing of the pond was described as "very likely after the weather turns hot and the water dries up in August."

The removal of the material from the bottom of the pond may run into trouble from a proposed bylaw banning all commercial gravel removal operations in town except in industrial A and industrial D zoning areas. Such operations would eliminate commercial gravel removal operations except by special permit issued by the board of selectmen.

A sister article proposed for the warrant would make gravel removal operations which are "incident to the development of a subdivision" subject to planning board restrictions. The board imposed certain restrictions on Yvon Cormier's Andover Country Club gravel removal because it was of commercial proportions. The board felt that similar restrictions on all subdivision-development gravel removal operations would result in better grading of subdivisions.

Three articles were proposed which would affect the size and shape of single family home lots in subdivisions.

First, a bylaw would require that lots have at least an 80-foot frontage, with the width of the property at the minimum setback from the road to be at least 120 feet.

As the bylaw stands, the only restriction is that lots be 100 feet wide at the minimum setback. This results in odd-shaped lots which may have only a 60-foot frontage and which flare to 100 feet at the minimum setback. Kear said the new bylaw would encourage the design of more "usable" lots.

Corner lots were the subject of two bylaws. By legal definition, corner lots have two front yards requiring two front-yard setbacks. Some building inspectors interpret this to mean that corner lots should also have two back-yard setbacks, with no side-yard setbacks applicable.

Kear wants to change this so corner lots need only one back-yard setback and a smaller side-yard setback.

Kear also presented a proposed bylaw which would make all corner lots in a cluster subdivision at least as big as the minimum lot allowable in the zoning district without cluster zoning. This would apply only to lots on the corner of a major road serving 11 or more lots.

Under cluster zoning, smaller individual lot sizes are allowed if central green areas are left open.

The final article proposed was a request for authorization by town meeting to negotiate with George Chongris for purchase of certain lots on the Fish Brook watershed.

In other planning board action, bond reductions were granted for certain lots in the Belknap and Farr Corners subdivisions. A savings account passbook was accepted to replace a mortgage bond on the Royal Estates subdivision owned by George Chongris. The board passed a motion which said that sale of the development rights of the Turner Farm to the state was in agreement with town open spaces plans, comprehensive plans and zoning bylaws.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Janet D. Lake

It's time to get rid of all those unsightly bulges brought on by holiday over indulgence and The Haven is the place to do it. Starting Monday, Jan. 28, Rita Paulekas will conduct an "Exercise For Health" Class from 10 to 11:30 a.m. You don't have to register, you don't have to wear any special clothing, just so long as what you're wearing is comfortable. Just arrive Monday morning and get to work. You'll have lots of company.

Surely you have marked on your calendar the Arm Chair Travel program with its trip to Greece, Thursday afternoon, Jan. 31, at 2 o'clock, but in case you haven't, mark it now. Phebe Hamm of Concord will be there to give you expert guidance on your armchair traveling. She'll

Ms. White Holyoke Scholar

Recently, Mrs. R. Wayne Grant of Andover, president of the North Shore Mt. Holyoke Club, was informed by the college that Ms. Nancy White, also of Andover, was named alumnae scholar.

Ms. White, a senior at Mt. Holyoke, attended Andover High School where she was active in sports and a member of the National Honor Society.

At Mt. Holyoke, Nancy has been a dorm representative, co-captain of the swim team, freshman class social chairwoman, junior class treasurer and a student advisor. A romance languages and literature major, Ms. White was named a Sarah Williston Scholar in her junior year and received a student leader recognition award.

Scholarship money for a qualified North Shore student is made available each year through the sale of pecans by area club members.

Arrangements for purchasing these nuts can be made with Mrs. Grant.

The next mini-clinic will not be held until Feb. 5 when it will be at The Haven. You may stop by The Haven any Wednesday afternoon, however, and have your blood pressure checked and chat with the nurse on any problems you may be having. The clinic requires appointments, but the Wednesday afternoon session is just first come, first served.

Feb. 6 is the date of the February birthday party. Those of you who share Mr. Washington's and Mr. Lincoln's special days and month will be the guests of honor. The party starts at 2 o'clock and you are invited.

The Andover Historical Society will be taking you on a pictorial tour of the two Andovers Thursday, Feb. 7, at 2 p.m., at The Haven. Don't miss this wonderful opportunity to learn more about your own back yard.

It is Ice Follies time again and The Haven has made arrangements for you to attend the matinee performance Feb. 13. The seats will be the best in the house and cost includes your bus transportation. Only nine dollars! You'll leave Andover at noon and return by five. This is usually a very popular event, so don't delay getting down to The Haven to purchase your tickets.

Valentines Day, Feb. 14, a Thursday, there will be a special pot luck lunch and you need some suggestions. Lunch will be about 12:30 and promises to be delicious. We'd love to see you there!

At Observance

Andover school nurses, who participated in National School Nurse Day observances on Jan. 23 include, back row: Mrs. Ann Wilkins, Mrs. Barbara Whiteside and Mrs. Jean Canavan. Seated, Mrs. Gertrude Kefferstan, head nurse and Mrs. Beverly Felsberg.

School Nurse Day Observed

National School Nurse Day was observed nationwide on Jan. 23. This tenth observance is sponsored by the Department of School Nurses of the National Education Association hoping to make the public aware of the importance of school health services and the school nurse's role in these programs.

Vision and hearing screening, scoliosis and tympanometry testing, testing for tuberculosis, serving as a resource person to teachers in Health Education, aiding in curriculum planning, counseling students, parents and school personnel to help plan action for eliminating, minimizing or accepting health problems that interfere with effective learning by students are the major duties of the school nurse.

School nurses have asked cooperation in returning health survey forms, immunization updates and remind all parents that physical examinations are required by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health for students in Kindergarten, third, seventh and 10th grades.

South PTO To Meet

The South School P.T.O. is having Mary Richards from the Getzel Institute speak on child growth and development on Monday, Jan. 28 at 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria.

Separate clothes drying loads into heavy and lightweight items. Since the lighter ones take less drying time, the dryer doesn't have to be on as long for these loads.

According to AMA, soft water is better for hair and skin than hard water.

Cunningham Is Elected

The Student Chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers at the University of Lowell has announced its 1980 officers. Brian T. Cunningham of 4 Danforth Circle, Andover, was elected vice president.

The ASCE chapter helps students prepare for civil engineering careers through activities such as talks by guest experts, resume writing sessions, field trips to construction sites and professional meetings in Boston, and surveys of employment opportunities. In 1978 the U. Lowell chapter received a Letter of Honorable Mention from the American Society of Civil Engineers.

East Jr. High Happenings

By Heidi Lasch and Amy Higgins

We are very proud of the students from East who were selected to participate in the Northeast District music performances. Junior high district auditions were held the second week in January in Billerica. Members of the chorus who passed the audition were Heather Lewis and Lisa McConkey, Alto; Laura DiMeo and Karen Saalfrank, second soprano, and Kara Gemmell, soprano. They were in competition with hundreds of girls from all over Massachusetts for this select chorus.

In the instrumental auditions Arthur Muldoon, Katrina Smith and Sheryl Galvin were accepted. They will all attend three future rehearsals and a public performance will be held in March. Congratulations to all who auditioned. East Junior High will once again be well represented.

An awards assembly was held for members of the East Junior High Soccer Team at which special awards were presented to members of the team by John B. Hughes, assistant principal.

The team posted an impressive seven wins, two losses record for the season defeating teams from Billerica, Methuen, Lawrence Voke, Medford and Lynnfield.

Special awards were given to Zack Appgar, most valuable lineman; Paul Petrie, co-most valuable back; Craig Silva, outstanding goalie and Scott Clancy, co-most valuable back.

The team is coached by Charles A. Labelle of the East faculty.

WESTern Roundup

By Tricia Gannon

West Junior High students attended the third school dance sponsored by the student council. Like the previous two, the dance was a great success. The student government is sponsoring a ninth grade East-West dance on Feb. 8. These joint dances were established so ninth graders could begin to know each other before they met at the high school in tenth grade.

William Hart, Anthony Covino, and other faculty members are making preparations to begin the "School Publication." This will be a high quality booklet displaying the best work of West Junior High students. Such things as creative writing, artwork, and photography will be featured in the booklet. It is expected to be published in April.

Ninth grade students have been visiting the District Court in Lawrence as part of their civics classes. Lately these ninth graders have been studying the judicial system and for a special learning experience, civics teachers Bruce Dewire and Jack Kennedy have been taking their classes to court.

The ninth grade boys basketball team is still undefeated after seven games. Last Friday they played Chelmsford-Parker and won by a score of 70-61. The team's high scorers were Sean McGranaghan and Jeff Canovitch. Their next game will be tomorrow at Dracut, and WJH faculty and students wish the team good luck.

The WJH Girls Basketball Team played a close game last Friday but lost by one basket to Chelmsford-Parker. The score was 27-25 and Bryna Jones again was the high scorer for the team.

Exhibit Of Allston Art At Museum

An exhibition titled, "A Man of Genius: The Art of Washington Allston" will be on view at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts through Feb. 3.

The exhibition celebrates the 200th birthday of America's "first Romantic Painter," and Boston's leading artist during the first half of the 19th century. Tracing Allston's career from early classical compositions to later poetic paintings, the exhibition will include portraits, landscapes, and figure studies. Several of the works will be shown for the first time, including two lent by Petworth House in Sussex, England.

In 1801, Allston left for Europe where he studied and worked alternately in London and Rome for the next seventeen years. While in Europe, Allston was inspired by the 16th and 17th century use of rich, resonant color, and by the grand, heroic scale of European paintings of the time. While there, he became a widely respected artistic and literary figure, a close friend of the English poet, Samuel Taylor Coleridge and the American author, Washington Irving, among others.

When Allston returned to Boston in 1818, the influences of European art became the basis for expression of his own thoroughly romantic imagination. For a country still struggling to achieve a national identity, Allston presented to America an approved European style. He thus became a link between two cultures, and in America he came to personify the highest artistic ideals.

Landscapes and portraits comprise the bulk of Allston's early paintings. Later, the supernatural, miracles, and reverie serve as compelling themes.

The Dead Man Restored by Touching the Bones of the Prophet Elisha, an extraordinary picture of huge size, illustrates Allston's fascination with the mysterious and the supernatural, as does his masterwork, Belshazzar's Feast, begun in 1817, but still incomplete at Allston's death in 1843.

Allston's enormous popularity in his own day led twenty Bostonians to subscribe a total of $10,000 to the artist to enable him to work on Belshazzar's Feast. Another tribute to him was the naming of the town of Allston, Massachusetts in his honor.

The last major Allston exhibition was held in 1947 at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, in conjunction with the Detroit Institute. It was organized by the well-known scholar, E. P. Richardson, then the Director of the Detroit Institute.

Organizer of the exhibition are: William H. Gerdts, Professor of Art History at the City University of New York; Theodore E. Stebbins, Jr., Curator of American Paintings at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts; and Frank Goodyear, Curator of the Penn-

Coyotes

Since 1900, coyotes have been moving eastward. Eastern coyotes and coydogs (coyote-dog hybrid) have distinctive behavior. Coyotes shake, scratch, and groom less than coydogs; at two months coyotes will howl in unison; they wave rather than wag their tails, and male coyotes help raise the pups, Massachusetts Audubon tells us.

Elaine Viehmann

Doherty

much "a wash" among the three schools. On-site estimates were $4,880,892 for Doherty; $4,432,978 for Sanborn and $4,912,860 for South. Sanborn would also have at least $400,000 in off-site construction and South, $500,000-plus for widening roads and installing sidewalks.

In addition to the matter of pupil adjustment, parents seemed worried that special services might be lost as pupils were redistricted from the closed school.

Viehmann said the administration had assured her they will be able to maintain special services as they now exist, with at least music and art rooms in each building.

Charles Borruso of Osgood Street asked if the decision had to be made now, or if it could wait three or so years until the population projections were borne out.

Viehmann replied that the decision wasn't just the result of declining elementary enrollments, but also of the inadequacies in the secondary schools. Even the newer West Jr. High was a media center that seats only 20 for 900 pupils, she said, but she called the inadequacies at East Jr. High "horrendous."

Chairman Ken Gropper of the School Building Committee added that if the town took the option of "doing nothing" rather than funding renovation of the closed school, it would take around $3 million just to bring the present East building up to code, even without doing anything educationally.

Ted Williams of Dascomb Road suggested the committee consider selling Bancroft, which is expensive to maintain and use the proceeds to build a new junior high.

Viehmann replied that a new building would cost more than $7 million, and that they couldn't realize that amount of money from such a move.

Robin Moody, 42 Washington Ave., claimed there was a "hidden agenda" that favored an in-town versus an out-of-town location.

She said it was "poor policy" to base the decision simply on nearness to the business district.

"It's a lovely downtown, she said, "but it's not the cultural center of the universe."

At decision time, School Committeeman John Eaton said that the closing was a "total Andover problem and not a sectional one," and that he believed that this choice would solve the most problems for the most students.

Colleague Donald Robb agreed that it wasn't a question of one section versus another. He added that it would be extremely foolish for parents to feel that "it's not my affair any more" just because their particular school wasn't closed, and he urged them to come to town meeting and support the school committee.

"I know it's a desperate feeling," Viehmann said, "to anticipate the loss of a school you and your children have invested much of yourselves in."

But she said she was encouraged by the movement to try to find ways to keep Doherty programs active and take them to other schools.

New Energy Booklet Available

A new pamphlet documenting conservation tips and ways to avoid consumer fraud is available from Lt. Gov. Tom O'Neill's office.

"Consumer's EnerGuide," prepared by the Executive Office of Consumer Affairs, includes new information on specifications for wood stoves, ratings for fire wood, how to select a reputable contractor, what to look for in a contract and other conservation tips.

EnerGuide highlights the new law for wood burning stoves which requires that all wood stoves sold in Massachusetts must be tested by a certified testing laboratory and bear safety certification labels.

"With the cost of energy continually rising, many consumers are looking for supplementary heating units and inexpensive ways to save energy," Consumer Affairs Secretary Eileen Schell said. "Our pamphlet will help consumers make wise choices and protect themselves at the same time."

Using federal funding, EnerGuide was prepared for O'Neill's "You've Got the Power" energy education project.

The EnerGuide is available at no cost by writing to EnerGuide, Lt. Gov. Tom O'Neill, Office of Special Projects, 53 State St., Room 632, Boston, 02109.

Jupiter Featured In Planetarium Program

The new Planetarium program, "By Jove," at Boston's Museum of Science zooms in on the planet Jupiter and its satellites with the closest views Earth has yet seen.

The program presents a wealth of color photos and films taken by the recent Voyager probes, as well as the earlier Pioneer 10 and 11 probes. It also plays a recording of the most powerful radio sound caught from the planet's radiation belts.

The ancient peoples who observed Jupiter (or Jove) were not far wrong, the Planetarium says, when they made it their supreme god who ruled with lightning. The planet, which is about 500 million miles (800 million km) from Earth, is the largest in the solar system and it is continuously streaked with lightning.

After Galileo discovered four moons orbiting Jupiter through his telescope, the use of improved telescopes in the centuries following added further knowledge. But it was not until space probes were launched that a clear picture could emerge.

Everything about Jupiter is unimaginably big and much different from Earth, the program points out. Its magnetic field, for example, is 100 times the diameter of Earth's field. Surrounded by gases, radiation and a ring of sulfur, Jupiter is a violent, stormy world. At its center the temperature may be 30,000 degrees C.

An electric current, the "flux tube," links Jupiter to Io, one of the least 14 satellites that make Jupiter the center of a miniature solar system. The Planetarium program focuses on Io, a place of fire and brimstone. Volcanoes hurl clouds of sulfur-dioxide 60 to 180 miles (100 to 300 km) high. Some of it freezes and falls back as snow, contrasting with the reds and blacks that sulfur in its various forms creates on Io's surface.

The Voyager probes have now continued past Jupiter and will eventually leave the solar system. But not before Saturn and possibly even distant Uranus are investigated, the Planetarium notes.

"By Jove" is given at 11 a.m. daily and at 8 p.m. Friday through March 17. Children under five are not allowed in the Planetarium, although they are admitted free in the rest of the Museum.

To Discuss Air Quality, Transportation

The Merrimack Valley Planning Commission Transportation Policy Advisory Group will meet Tuesday, Jan. 29, to discuss the Merrimack Valley's air quality program and to review a draft of the plan for providing transportation to elderly and handicapped residents of the Merrimack Valley.

A one-half hour film on the effects of air pollution on human health and the environment will be shown at the meeting. The types of efforts that will be made within the Merrimack Valley region to reduce air pollution will be described by Ms. Heidi O'Brien of the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Quality Engineering. Following the presentation on the air quality program, the draft report of the handicapped transportation plan will be discussed with those in attendance.

The Merrimack Valley Planning Commission is responsible for working with its communities and their officials to develop a plan for controlling air pollution from automobiles. When the exhausts from automobiles are present in sufficient quantities, they are hazardous to human health. The regional effort to reduce automobile pollution is part of Massachusetts' effort to reduce air pollution from all sources so that the air is clean enough to meet the standards established by the federal government.

The plan to provide transportation to elderly and handicapped people was developed by the Merrimack Valley Planning Commission with the cooperation of the Merrimack Valley Regional Transit Authority. Section 504 of the National Rehabilitation Act of 1973 forbids discriminating against handicapped persons in programs which receive federal aid. These regulations include providing access to mass transportation. The draft Handicapped Transportation Transition Plan outlines how the region intends to provide this service.

All interested citizens are invited to attend the meeting, which will be held on the third floor of the Haverhill Citizen Center at 7:30 p.m. For further information contact James Heidell of the Merrimack Valley Planning Commission.

Bresnahan In South Pacific

Navy Machinist's Mate Fireman William F. Bresnahan, son of Brendan C. and Marilyn M. Bresnahan of 64 Sylvan Terrace, North Andover, recently visited Kwajalein Atoll in the Marshall Islands of the South Pacific.

He is a crewmember aboard the ammunition ship USS Kilauea, homeported in Concord, Calif., and currently operating as a unit of the U.S. 7th Fleet.

The visit offered the crew a look into the past, as many World War II Japanese pillboxes and bomb shelters still stand as reminders of the amphibious landing in 1944.

The Kilauea is 564 feet long and carries a crew of 401. She is designed to provide rapid transfer of missiles and munition to other ships.

A 1975 graduate of Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical High School, Bresnahan joined the Navy in January 1975.

Anniversary Events At Science Museum

Boston's Museum of Science announces the schedule of events to celebrate its 150th Anniversary Year. (The Museum is the successor of the Boston Society of Natural History, founded in 1830.)

First of the year's activities will be a birthday gift to the public. From Feb. 4 through 9 all ages will be admitted at a reduced rate. Also, on the actual anniversary day, Feb. 9, all those born that day in any year will be admitted free, with proof of birth. Museum hours that week are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday. (The Museum will be closed to the public Friday night, Feb. 8.)

Another February event is an Anniversary Dinner for the Corporation Feb. 8 when Mary D. Leakey, noted discoverer of man's early origins in Africa, will receive the Bradford Washburn Award. Bestowed annually, the award honors outstanding contribution to the public understanding of science.

The major event of the year will be the opening of the Thomson Theatre Building, a new three-story structure attached to the west wing. Here the Museum will conduct electricity demonstrations with a gigantic Van de Graaf generator, the largest in the world, and capable of 2.5 million volts. Members and donors will be invited to previews of these spectacular programs preceding the public opening, tentatively scheduled for mid-March.

Still another event will be a three-day tribute to New England inventors. A new award is being established, to be given annually to an outstanding New England inventor. The first individual chosen will receive it at a presentation dinner March 27. Inventors' works will be exhibited at the Museum March 28 and 29. The tribute is sponsored by the Boston Patent Lawyers Association in cooperation with Massachusetts Institute of Technology, the Inventors Association of New England, and the Museum.

Also taking place in the spring will be a special Planetarium program, "... and a star to steer her by," that relates to the coming of the Tall Ships for Boston's 350th Jubilee. The program will follow the routes of two Tall Ships to explain navigational techniques long used by sailors crossing the Atlantic. The program will run from March 25 through June 23.

On April 26 a gala Anniversary Ball will be held in the Museum.

The Anniversary Year activities will end in May with the 150th annual meeting. The museum hopes its $12.5 million anniversary campaign will then have come to a successful conclusion. At the present time, the museum is within $2.1 million of the goal.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale Dates Set

Neighborhood and Town Cookie Chairmen from Merrimack River Girl Scout Council met Jan. 16 at the Andover Country Club to coordinate final preparations for the 1980 Cookie Sale.

Jean Gessner of Tewksbury, Council cookie sale chairman, introduced Marge Davis, executive director, who outlined council needs for the coming year and highlighted details in the Plan Book made available to the cookie chairmen. Local Girl Scouts will be taking orders from Feb. 9 to 25. This year a box of cookies will cost $1.50 with 20 cents going into local troop funds. An additional 5 cents will go into the council campership funds and 61 cents will be used to operate the council's camps and their programs for girls.

Donna Nye, camping services director, told of current needs for the council's resident and day camps. Because camp fees do not cover the true cost of operating the camps, a successful cookie sale is needed to offset the anticipated $25,000 camp deficit.

Peter Bergin, representative for FFV (a division of Interbake Foods, Inc.), described the seven products sold in this council. Four of these, "Thin Mints", "shortbread", "Sandwich Cremes" and "Peanut Butter Sandwich" are available in all G.S.U.S.A. Councils. "Peanut Butter Patties", "Granola", and "Sesame Wheat Crackers" were developed by FFV and are unique to their line.

Parent Enrichment Workshop At Ballardvale Church

A workshop to help parents learn the skills of parenting will be held at the Ballard Vale Church on six successive Tuesday evenings beginning Feb. 26, 7:30 to 10 p.m.

The purposes are to help parents to child rearing so that parents do not need to be authoritarian, permissive, or an oscillator between the two and to make it possible for them to build a trusting and caring relationship that will do away with the need for punishment.

Some of the skills that will be taught are: Learning to define who owns the problem; Learning to actively listen to children; Learning to send non-destructive statements that come out of the feeling level of the parent; Learning to settle conflicts so that both parent and child feel that they have gotten what each wanted and needed. Recognition of different values of parent and child.

The instructors will be Demaris Kooker, director of Greater Lawrence Mental Health Parent Child Home Program and Frank Kooker, pastor of Aldersgate United Methodist Church in Chelmsford.

The class will be held with a maximum of 25 participants. Questions concerning this event may be discussed with Rev. David Hollenbeck at the Ballard Vale Church, 23 Clark Road.

Bon Secours Accredited

William L. Lane, director, formally announced Bon Secours Hospital's accreditation by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals (JCAH).

This accreditation, which is for a two year period (the longest accreditation award possible), is the result of an on-site survey made by field representatives of the Joint Commission's Hospital Accreditation Program (HAP). Accreditation indicates that this facility has chosen to operate according to standards set by JCAH and that Bon Secours Hospital has met those standards.

While making the announcement, Lane stated, "This accreditation truly belongs to everyone who works, practices, and volunteers at Bon Secours Hospital, as without the cooperation, support, and hard work of all, such an achievement would not be possible." He continued, "While the award comes to the Hospital, we are all well aware that without the complete cooperation of the Medical Staff during the survey process and were it not for the very high quality of patient care practiced continually by the medical profession in the community, this would not be possible, or if it were, such an award certainly would be of little significance."

The standards, published as the Accreditation Manual for Hospitals, set forth optimal achievable goals of excellence against which a facility can measure itself and be measured by the Joint Commission's survey.

The Joint Commission's accreditation surveys are voluntary. It is not legally necessary for a hospital to be accredited, but health care facilities have sought accreditation because it represents a benchmark of quality that is higher than governmental licensure alone. The chief aim of the Hospital Accreditation Program, one of four such programs under the JCAH umbrella, is to help hospitals in their pursuit of excellence and thereby provide a higher quality of care to patients. The program also seeks to recognize, and to identify for the public, those facilities which meet its standards.

The Joint Commission began in 1918 under the auspices of the American College of Surgeons. It was incorporated in 1951 with the support of its present members organizations; the American College of Surgeons, the American College of Physicians, the American Hospital Association and the American Medical Association. JCAH is a Chicago-based, non-governmental, non-profit organization. In addition to hospitals, it has programs for the accreditation of long term care facilities, psychiatric facilities and facilities for the mentally retarded.

Building Group To Initiate Planning

With the decision of "which school" finally made, the School Building Committee will begin working tonight toward final schematic designs for renovation of Doherty School into a junior high.

Their open meeting, at 7:30 p.m. in town hall, will also include a short joint meeting with the school committee to finish up their warrant articles — including a bonding article to fund the renovations — for presentation to spring town meeting.

Meanwhile, School Chairman Elaine Viehmann said Tuesday night that the school department would get right down to the business of making redistricting and orientation plans.

In response to parents' concerns about "adjustment," Viehmann said that one advantage of making the decision now is that there is plenty of time to prepare both the Doherty pupils and their new schools for the changes.

She added that unlike an isolated child moving into a new school, the redistricting would offer youngsters a move as a whole neighborhood.

She said the schools would also be working on ways to preserve the things that were important about Doherty, and to incorporate them into the rest of the system.

One of Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert's recommendations Tuesday night was that Doherty's highly-touted developmental primary program be moved to Bancroft in the fall.

Asked by another parent if their youngsters might be moved again, Viehmann replied: "I don't want to have to redistrict people's children, but everyone is going to have to move over."

She said the school committee couldn't make any guarantees that they wouldn't redistrict again, particularly if they have to close another school in two to three years as the population continues to decline. She said they plan to review the enrollment projections every year, but anticipate another closing by 1985.

Another important question that arose this week, concerns what will happen to the present Doherty staff and Principal Lois Haslam.

Asst. Supt. Charles Mitsakos said yesterday that he doesn't anticipate having to let any tenured teachers go, and that if any cuts are made they would be made on a system-wide basis, rather than from Doherty per se.

He said attrition and leaves will provide slots for some of the staffers. Furthermore, he said, they may need almost as many teachers next year because of the way the students may fall into grade level groups.

There could be a small reduction, he said, but it wouldn't be "significant" the first year.

Mitsakos said each administrator in the system is undergoing evaluation, and that again, any decision to reduce the ranks would be made on a system-wide basis.

He said there are other possibilities, however. Some administrators have asked for transfers and there could be administrative reorganization or reassignments. Still another possibility, he said, is to have an administrator as project coordinator, overseeing the building program and conducting related in-service programs and the like.

Brief Emotion — Then To Work

Lois Haslam took "five minutes out for emotion" yesterday morning, and then said, "Let's get to work."

"Our job here is to work with the children," she said, "and that's what we're going to do."

She spent the morning speaking to the youngsters in small groups, "in between a few other calls."

She said she was tremendously proud of the teachers who were waiting when she arrived with their concerns, not about themselves, but about how the children were going to react.

"The important thing," Haslam said, "is that the children feel secure and feel that nice people are going to be taking care of them."

"I love this school," she said. "I sincerely believe in this extended family concept here."

Her staff, meanwhile, was wearing handmade "We Are Family" badges.

Haslam said they will now be taking a closer look at the kinds of successful programs Doherty has offered.

"Our job is to continue and enlarge them," she said, "for the benefit of the other schools and all the youngsters in town."

In addition to the developmental primary program, she listed the philosophy program for fifth graders, positive privileges program, student advisory board, energy conservation program, and special version of the outdoor education program, where the teachers and pupils live together.

Haslam also praised the Doherty parents as the only parent group that had focused on "what's good in education."

Her positive attitude about the closing emerged, she said, when she realized that Doherty offered "the best plant and the best place for a junior high."

"I didn't like it," she laughed, "but it's not a time to feel sorry for yourself."

Harris To Seek Re-Election

Edward M. Harris, chairman of the board of selectmen, announced Tuesday that he would seek re-election to another three-year term in the annual town election, March 24.

Harris is completing his first three-year term, and has served as its chairman for the past year.

Atty. Lawrence J. Sullivan, who is completing a one-year term on the board, said Wednesday he had not as yet made a decision whether or not to seek re-election.

As of Wednesday noon, the only other candidate to have announced, or taken out nomination papers for selectman was Gerald Silverman of Dufton Road.

There are two three-year terms to be filled.

In the school committee race, Donald Robb has obtained nomination papers seeking election to a three-year term on the board. Robb was appointed last Spring to fill the term of Casimir Kolaski who resigned to accept employment out of state.

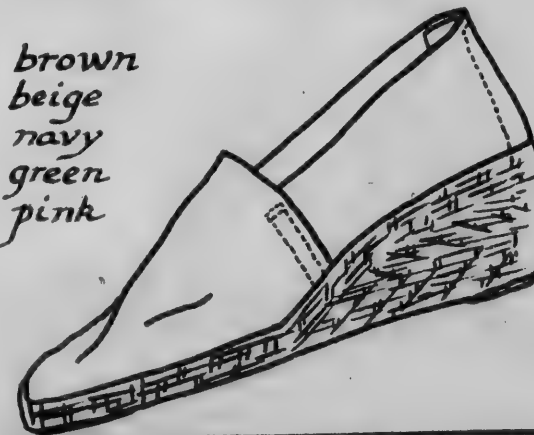

The only other announced candidate as of Wednesday noon was Richard E. Neal of Twin Brook Circle.

Moderator James D. Doherty, seeking re-election, is the only other candidate to have obtained nomination papers as of Wednesday.

Candidates have until Feb. 18 to file nomination papers with the town clerk, with the required 107 signatures.

School Costs Start Higher

By Linda S. Corbett

The school committee voted 3-2 Tuesday night to start working with a 16 percent increase budget for 1980-81.

The $13,902,928 amount will be discussed thoroughly as to school needs, however, and will probably be pruned considerably before town meeting.

The committee also voted to present a $425,000 warrant to town meeting for new roofs and floor coverings, and will discuss a host of other large maintenance items within the budget.

The administration had been told to come in with a budget increase of no more than 8 percent and they did — but Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert also gave them a 16 percent budget that, he said, better addressed the system's true needs.

He agreed with Committeeman Joseph Finn (see separate story) that quality is "regressing here," and reminded them of the "painful public school auction" at last spring's town meeting. He said he couldn't feel too badly against those who voted down the budget (the schools had asked for 8 percent and ended up with 5.3), because some were senior citizens "who at the end of the month don't have two nickels to rub together."

But, he said, "if I have ever been sure of one thing, it's that Andover is at the crossroads now."

"How can I communicate that we have a very fine school system — but not as fine as last year, or as the year before."

He said a 1977-78 state report shows that Andover's ability to financially support community services, including schools, is greater than 78 percent of the other communities.

"The irony is," he went on, "that for the last four years, Andover has contributed less than the state average per pupil per school."

He noted that the school tax rate had only gone up from $34 in 1973-74, to $37 in 1978-79. It actually crept down to $29 in 1976-77, but increased from $32 to $37 in 1978-79.

"All too soon," Seifert said, "people forget we had a reduction. They only remember that it went up $5 one year."

He said the system had needs all along,

Quality Of Education A Main Concern

Quality of education in Andover will begin to decline, School Committeeman Joseph Finn told some 600 parents Tuesday night, unless they turn out to support the school budget at town meeting.

Finn took advantage of the full house of parents who had come to the West Jr. High auditorium to see which elementary school would be closed — to offer his plea.

He said the committee has been chastised from many quarters for basing their decision to stick with a 6-3-3 grade plan on "political rather than educational reasons."

That, Finn said, was "a basic misunderstanding."

Essentially, he said, the committee felt the 6-3-3 was a proven success in Andover, and that the additional $2 million it would cost to remodel for a 5-3-4 system precluded discussing its basic merits any further.

He said he felt as a school committeeman he had been operating under a mandate from town meeting that "quality education is a top priority as long as it's cheap."

He said it was becoming more and more difficult to balance reasonable quality and financial responsibility, and that he wished parents would come out in such numbers (as Tuesday night) to support their budget at town meeting.

Last year, he said, the administration had recommended an 11 to 14 percent budget, while "town meeting gave us 5 percent."

"I don't think that's reasonable."

"The political reality," he went on, "is that most of you won't come to town meeting and support our budget."

"The losing of an elementary school is very obvious," he said, "but deterioration of quality due to improper funding is very subtle."

He asked the parents to "please start examining what's going on within the schools."

"The administration is very talented and clever," he said, "but they're not magicians. You can't have a budget at half the rate of inflation and not have a deterioration of quality."

"I suggest to you that it's your children that will pay the consequences."

buildings to fall apart."

Among the major maintenance items to be discussed in coming meetings are paving and resurfacing, $41,400; asbestos removal, $36,000; door replacements, $34,000; energy conservation measures, $32,600; acoustic treatments, $29,900; moving the cooling tower at Bancroft, $18,900; architectural services, $12,000; renovation of toilets at West Elementary, $10,200; rebuilding the South canopy, $10,000; rebuilding the kindergarten passageway at South, $6,000 custodial equipment, $4,900.

Seifert said the school committee had asked him to study the two-mile busing limit in an attempt to cut transportation costs.

"I have had the opportunity to walk a number of schools out to two miles," he said, "and I can't recommend that. I can't help it if we don't have sidewalks or the roads aren't wide enough."

Committeeman John Eaton moved to start with a 10 percent increase budget, or $13,183,810 ($10,373,000 for salaries and $2,810,810 for expenses). But Finn said he felt very strongly about being at the crossroads where the quality will go down, and said he'd like to start higher and "really look at the needs."

Colleague Donald Robb said one recurring theme in letters recently received from parents is the level of satisfaction — from all the schools. He said he would like to take a closer look "at the real needs, not just grand desires."

Eaton withdrew his motion in favor of one by Alan Doerr for a 16 percent first pass.

Chairman Elaine Viehmann and Robb were opposed in the final tally.

"I could go to 10 percent," Viehmann said. "I'm personally willing to spend more, but I'm not the average person in Andover. We're not going to get a two-thirds vote from town meeting for anywhere near that."

She said Andover would lose another 200 students this year and close a school, and that those factors should help keep the expense side down.

"Maybe all of us will feel that way after we evaluate the needs," Finn said, but he wanted to see the budget discussed in terms of "quality education."

Initial Budget Shows $3M Increase

By Tim Greene

The budget Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark has presented for fiscal 1981 represents a $3 million increase over the fiscal 1980 budget, an increase of 12.6 percent.

The budget, which includes school costs, is scheduled for review by the finance committee and the board of selectmen, who may recommend budget cuts to town meeting.

"Our next phase in the budgetary process is to develop a budget which remains within the four-percent tax cap," Clark said in his Jan. 18 budget message. "Town meeting can then more adequately address sustaining or reducing municipal services."

Clark said his budget as presented "includes funds necessary to operate the town on the same level as last year with some improvement."

Some of those improvements include personnel additions which represent a $130,000 increase in salaries, the manager said. Personnel requested were: one police captain; two patrolmen; eight firefighters; an assistant town accountant; a personnel administrator shared with the school department; and a sign maintenance person.

Clark said the budget as presented, if accepted by town meeting, would represent a $2 increase in the tax rate, boosting it from $64 to $66, a 3.1 percent increase.

Increases in the rate were held down by an increase in fees, town departments charge directly. The Department of Community Development and Planning made $62,000 more this year than last, more $438,000 and transportation, from $311,000 (as late as two years ago) to $444,000.

He said there has been some criticism of "tradeoffs" that left the maintenance account low. "It has been our policy to balance the budget," he said. "If we got hit with an extra expense somewhere, this area (maintenance) usually gets hit."

But, he said, he has $41 million worth of buildings and "can no longer promote instructional programs and allow our than offsetting the cost" of issuing the permits for which the fees are charged, Clark said.

Water rates, raised about a year ago, will bring in an estimated $200,000 more than last year for an estimated total of $1.1 million, the manager said. The town is selling more water, too, Clark added, to industries and North Reading.

The town expects a half million dollar increase in excise tax revenues thanks to the reregistering in Massachusetts of cars illegally registered in New Hampshire.

Returns from investments through the Municipal Deposit Trust were up from $225,000 to $400,000, a 77 percent increase, Clark said. Tax revenues are invested through the Municipal Deposit Trust, bringing a return from the time they are collected until they are spent. The trust is arranged through the Massachusetts Municipal Association.

And an increase in property taxes is expected in fiscal 1981 when more of the industries being built in Andover are completed and are taxed at full value.

By January 1981, five industries are expected to be completed and on the tax rolls at full valuation, Clark said.

With these revenue increases came expenditure increases, Clark said. Debt service was up 20 percent. Retirement funding was up 20 percent.

Energy costs rose an average of 43 percent, with electricity costs up 20 percent, fuel oil up 45 percent and natural gas and gasoline rising 40 percent.

This year's energy budgets were overrun because of unexpectedly rapid

Not Surprising At This Point

A projected $2 increase in the tax rate for general government, as contained in the budget submitted by Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark this past week, should not be that surprising.

Considering such things as costs committed through prior town meeting actions, plus meeting the demands of the current inflationary period, that increase could be anticipated.

Too, it must be borne in mind that the budget as presented by Clark is his presentation and still subject to the scrutiny of the selectmen and Finance Committee.

The manager has received what might be considered a wish list from department heads, has examined them and ultimately come up with what he feels is needed to effectively and efficiently manage Andover's general town government.

Still to be considered is the school department budget which will be added to Clark's proposal, thrashed over between now and April and finally presented to town meeting for approval.

It is interesting to note that with the exception of some additional personnel in public safety and some in administrative office staffing, there is little in the way of additional services contained in the proposed expenses for the coming year.

Municipal employees will be receiving increases as provided by contracts agreed upon in prior years.

Such items as capital improvements projects, undertaken in past years, will result in an increase of 20 per cent in the debt service in the next fiscal year.

It is almost unnecessary to explain to the average layperson the increases brought on by fuel, or energy related expenses, which Clark said went up 43 per cent this past year.

It is consoling to think that at least some of the expenses may be chopped before town meeting, thus the $2 tax hike from this portion of the municipal budget will probably be reduced.

There will, no doubt, be a jolt when the school department expenses come in, but they too, will be examined and more than likely reduced before being submitted to the electorate at town meeting.

In a year when there will be consideration of bonding a major school building project, it is some relief not to be shocked by a major tax rate increase. There even could be the possibility — although don't be too optimistic — that the general rate could be the same as a year ago.

The addition of major industrial development in recent years should be coming to the aid of the local residential taxpayer soon, even in view of the proposed school building project. Some of that industrial expansion could be realized in the next fiscal year as construction is completed and the plants go into operation.

There have been increases in revenues this past year, from such sources as increased water rates, user fees for recreational and other town-conducted programs, increased building fees to make the building department more self-sustaining.

While such revenues assist in keeping the tax rate down, it must also be realized that Andover residents are paying these costs, which basically add to their dues for membership in the town of Andover.

But, no one seems to complain too much about such added costs, so apparently, Andover is worth the address.

Two-hundred and seventy-five members of the Free Church gathered in the parish house on Wednesday to partake of a supper served by the Helping Hand Society, to listen to an address given by Rev. High Penny, pastor of the Elliot-Union Congregational Church of Lowell, and hear the annual report of the church organizations.

Voters at town meeting in March will face a $4 million budget, the largest in the history of the town. The exact figures will not be known until after the finance committee has gone over all of the department budgets.

A group of firemen met with the selectmen Monday night to discuss an article in the town warrant asking for a change in the bylaws to reduce their hours from 56 to 48 a week. The selectmen made no decision but referred the firemen to the town meeting.

The amount of business coming before the selectmen and board of assessors is so great that it soon may be necessary for them to have more than one regular business meeting per week.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Bet Breshnev Never Said,
'I'll Never Lie to You'By JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WASHINGTON -- President Carter was dumbfounded to learn that Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev had lied to him about Russia's military thrust into Afghanistan. But our sources in the intelligence network tell us that Carter had had at least six months advance warning of the storm clouds over the strife-torn Middle Eastern country that has fused the onset of Cold War II.

Here's the chronology of the crisis we pieced together:

Last summer, the White House received alerts of disturbing Kremlin moves involving their puppet neighbor state of Afghanistan. Intelligence sources reported that a 400-man Soviet force was installed near the border town of Baghian. Then there was an influx of Russian military advisers into the bleak barren land that promises a gateway to the oil riches of Arabia.

In September, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee had enough secret information to caution that a Soviet invasion of Afghanistan was a probability. In November, when the Iranian hostage crisis began, Red Army units were deployed to the Afghan border. Pakistan's Foreign Minister Agha Shahi called the build up to the attention of Secretary of State Cyrus Vance in a personal visit.

Washington officials sought an explanation from Moscow and were assured that no military aggression was contemplated by the Kremlin. Carter, distracted by the mushrooming events in Tehran, accepted President Leonid Brezhnev's sweet talk despite the evidence accumulated by American intelligence advisers.

The president belatedly discovered that Brezhnev apparently never read the story of George Washington and the cherry tree. His hard-headed Kremlin "hotline" counterpart was willing not only to wield the ax but to lie about it as well.

AFGHAN SPRINGBOARD? In the secret map rooms of the White House and the Pentagon, a tiny sandpit of an island is being pinpointed these days as the potential flash point between the United States and the Soviet Union. It is Hormuz, which lies in the narrow strait between the Persian Gulf and the Gulf of Oman.

Hormuz stands athwart the lifeline of oil shipments from Iran. If President Carter decides to impose a naval blockade upon Ayatollah Khomeini's rabid regime, Hormuz would be the place for U.S. warships to take up stations.

At the same time, the Soviet move into Afghanistan has placed Russian bases less than 500 miles from the vital strait. This means Soviet planes and missiles are within easy striking distance of the jugular vein of the seaway artery carrying oil to the non-Communist world.

We've learned that U.S. strategists believe that the Kremlin is more wolfishly interested in the oil wealth of the Middle East than access to the warm water ports of the Persian Gulf and Indian Ocean. CIA analysts believe that the Kremlin is hoping to splinter Iran into separate ethnic autonomies that can be eventually engulfed into the Soviet empire.

Afghanistan may be merely a springboard. A secret report written even before the Afghan incursion commented: "It is entirely possible that the Soviets would use the Afghans, Pathians and Baluchis as proxy forces to form a surrogate army, thus avoiding the use of Soviet troops and a major confrontation with the United States."

Significantly, many of the troops airlifted into Afghanistan are fluent in Middle East languages. Soviet propaganda broadcasts into Iran have been beating the tom-toms to stir up the ethnic dissidents in that tumultuous country.

ENERGY TURNABOUT: With a decade of energy adversity facing the nation, the White House has suddenly discovered that gasohol might provide an answer three years after we first wrote that mass production of the alcohol fuel could be a boon. In 1977, this column advocated the benefits of converting agricultural surpluses, timber waste and garbage into gasohol for American cars.

President Carter is now a Johnny-come-lately on the bandwagon. His advisers are promoting a crash program to encourage gasohol production. Three years ago, however, Carter devoted only a single sentence in a 103-page national energy proposal to the potential of the synthesized fuel.

Despite the fact that a massive switch to gasohol would provide a way to use surplus grain because of Carter's embargo on sales to Russia, it's doubtful if the program will get off the ground. Congress authorized loan guarantees for pilot gasohol plants three years ago but not a single plant has neared completion.

Meanwhile, the big gasoline companies are moving in on the market and will probably rake in the government subsidies in the future.

JUNKETING LAWMAKERS: Congress has its traditions. One of them is that our elected representatives somehow find time to seek out sunny climes when the House and Senate aren't in session and always at taxpayer expense.

Here's just a partial list of current lawmakers who have managed to satisfy their wanderlust this recess:

Sens. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, and Bill Roth, R-Del., junketed to the Far East for two weeks; Rep. John Brademas D-Ind., followed the sun to Spain and Portugal; Sen. Carl Levin, D-Mich., traveled to the Philippines and California; Sen. S.I. Hayakawa, R-Calif., found some interesting fact-finding in Hawaii, Hong Kong and the South Pacific paradise of Bali.

St. Robert's Holds Two-Game Lead

By Rick Harrison

Defending champ St. Robert's B opened a full two-game lead over the rest of the pack, rallying in the second half to overcome an upset-minded West Parish A quintet 18-16 in Andover Church Basketball League Intermediate "Gold" Division play last week at the West Junior High gym.

In other Gold action, St. Augustine B outslugged St. Robert's A, 38-35, St. Augustine D, 19-10.

The results left undefeated St. Robert's B at 5-0 overall while West A, St. Augustine B and St. Augustine C are all 3-2.

St. Robert's B, 18-16

West Parish A, dropping its second straight, inched ahead 4-2 in the opening quarter as two baskets by Billy Lane offset one by Dave DuHadway of St. Robert's B.

West moved to a commanding 12-2 half-time advantage, outscoring the victors 8-0 in the second period as Andy Thompson netted two buckets, Lisa Marcella one and Lane one.

St. Robert's B threw a stifling full-court press around West A in the second half, closing the gap to 13-8 after three periods on two Billy Deppe fieldgoals and one basket by Jeff Smith.

The defending champs went on a 10-3 fourth quarter spree to pull out the dramatic victory, as Joe Vecchi and Bobby Dziadosz led the way with four points apiece.

The balanced St. Robert's offense showed Deppe, Vecchi and Dziadosz with 4 markers apiece. DuHadway, Smith and Chris Chinchillo added 2 points each.

Billy Lane was game-high marksman for West A with 7 points, Andy Thompson pocketed 6, Lisa Marcella 2 and Eric Nickerson one free throw.

St. Augustine B, 38-35

Tim Reilly had a fantastic 20-point night for St. Augustine B, hitting on a high percentage of difficult outside shots to spark the triumph over St. Robert's A.

The winners moved ahead 10-6 in the first quarter, led 20-16 at halftime and 28-25 after three periods.

Reilly was very consistent, scoring six points in the first period, six in the second, four in the third and four in the fourth.

Rich Sullivan chipped in 8 points for the winners, and he was also a tower of strength on the backboards before fouling out with four minutes to play.

Dan Beckerman and Pete Zompa tossed in 4 points apiece, while Mike Powers contributed a key last quarter bucket for St. Augustine B.

The balanced St. Robert's A counter-attack was led by Chris Smith with 12 points, Mike Melia with 9 second-half markers, and Brian Molloy with 6 points.

Garnering single baskets were Kevin Byrne, Mike Griffin, John Williams and Sara Michelle Sapuppo.

Sapuppo was also the top defensive player on the court, constantly stealing the ball and setting up baskets with fine passes.

St. Augustine A, 29-25

Tom Lutz sparked a second-half comeback as St. Augustine A hit the victory column for the first time in five games.

St. Robert's C bolted to a 17-9 lead at intermission, with John Veilleux netting six points and Geoff Dowell four in the half.

Lutz pumped in 8 points and John Morrow added four in the third stanza, as St. Augustine escaped on a 14-5 run to grab a 23-22 lead.

Lutz chipped in four more and Tom Hollenback had a bucket in the final quarter, as the winners found a bit more breathing room with a 6-3 scoring edge.

Lutz emerged as game-high scorer with 14 points while Morrow, Hollenback and Jim Keating tossed in 4 points apiece.

John Lyons contributed an early free throw.

Paul Zahornasky and Scott Grant were defensive standouts.

The balanced St. Robert's C offense was

Girl Tracksters Lose Heartbreaker

By Patsy Doran

In a great, but heartbreaking meet, the Andover girls Indoor Track team lost to Fenwick 42-49. It was a true high all the way through the meet. The effort was there, and resulted in a track meet worth watching, and a show that all the girls and

Werner Ski Races Postponed

In a winter season that has been beset by lack of snow to a record setting degree, the Andover Buddy Werner Ski racers were forced to postpone their scheduled opening race for the third weekend in a row.

Determined effort will be made to finally open the ski race season at the Bradford Ski Area in a meet against the combined teams of Concord and Lincoln, with a starting time of 9 a.m. sharp.

All racers should be at the hill by 8 a.m. so that they may register, pick up their bibs and properly study the course.

On-snow practice will be held for all Andover racers on Tuesday evening from 6:30 to 8 p.m. at the Bradford Ski Area. In the event of poor hill conditions, the telephone squad will contact everyone to advise of cancellations.

Little League Registration Scheduled

Registration forms will be at all schools by the last week in January, with registration Feb. 9. The try-out date schedule will accompany the registration form. Opening Day will be Saturday, April 26.

Registration forms will also be available at all the sport and hockey shops in town.

Special provisions have been made to accept any and all equipment from last year's baseball season on registration day. Please be sure to return any equipment you have.

A birth certificate should accompany the registration form.

the coaches can be proud of.

In the 50 hurdles Ann Frank (7.6) came in first, Beth Whitworth (8.1) third. Shot putter Deanna Deloury threw 29'1" to get 2nd place Kim Worthley (25'8") got third. In the high jump, Patty Messersmith had a great day and jumped 4'10" for the win. Cynthia Surret jumped 4'8" for a third place. In the 50 yard dash, Monica Williams (6.5) came through first with Karen Surret (6.8) third. In the 300, Cynthia Surret showed up again, and came in second. Polly Witley ran a great race in the 600 with a 1:35.4 clocking, and a second place. Teammate Jessica Lamontagne was right behind her with a good, and personal best time of 1:35.7, and a third place. In the 1000, Marsha Stansfield really poured it on for the win with a 2:55.1. The mile had Susie Bright with a second place and a 5:51.2. The meet came right down to the last 2 events, the 1-lap relay, and the mile relay. Ann Frank, Cynthia Surret, Karen Surret, and Monica Williams made up the 1-lap relay, and came through with the win and an excellent time. So then it was up to the mile relay. Jessica LaMontagne, Jan Stelzer, Marcia Stansfield and Polly Witley ran for Andover. Every one of the laps was neck and neck. With about 20 yards to the finish, Fenwick took the edge and pulled in for the win. Andover had a good clocking, thanks to the efforts of all the girls.

Top Medford

The Girl's Indoor Track team came up with a win on Jan. 12 as they crushed Medford with a 68-23 score. Andover trampled over Medford in every event, to come up with the easy win and up its record to 2-2. Medford only placed seven times while Andover took the remaining 22 places. Andover swept three events, the shot put with Marci Spiegel first, Dennia DeLoury second and Karen Duncan third, the 600 with Polly Witley, Jessica LaMontagne and Diane Radula respectively, and in the 1000 with Marsha Stansfield first. Kim Worthly second, who made a remarkably good showing with a 3:02, and Kim Walsh third.

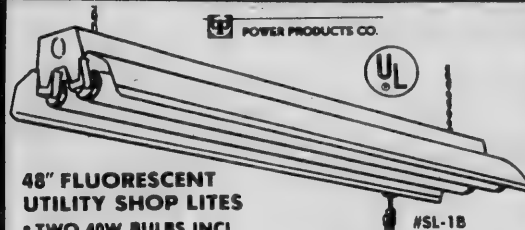

Jan Stelzer ran the two-mile for the first time this year and placed first with an excellent time of 13:13. Ellen Williams came in third in that with a 13:57. Monica Williams had two good showings in the meet with a first place in the 50 yard dash, and the last leg of the winning one-lap relay, in which she seemed to fly past the other team and come across the finish line well before her opponent.

Susie Bright had a good mile time of 5:43 and came in first. The mile relay team with LaMontagne, Radula, Stelzer and Marsha Cummings had a winning time of 4:44.4.

Both relay teams have been winning consistently and are true assets to the team.

Villanova Remains Unbeaten

By Rick Harrison

Villanova, Dartmouth and Holy Cross remained the top three teams in the Intermediate Division of the Andover Youth Basketball League, the Wildcats and Big Green sweeping two games last week, and the Crusaders splitting a pair of contests.

The results left Villanova at 6-0, Dartmouth at 5-1 and HC at 4-2 overall.

Villanova trimmed Holy Cross (22-12) and Boston College (36-18), while Dartmouth dumped North Carolina State (29-20) and Harvard (35-30).

The Cross also tipped N.C. State, 23-21 in overtime, while Harvard gained a split by rocking Boston College, 46-13.

Dartmouth, 29-20

Mark Doherty and Dan Sheehan, Dartmouth's 1-2 offensive punch, led a late game rally that saw the victors break open a tight game with an 8-0 burst.

North Carolina State, running its patterned offense, had closed the gap to 21-20 with 2:30 to play after trailing 7-4, 14-8 and 20-16 at the first three quarter breaks.

Doherty swished a free throw to give Dartmouth a little breathing room, and then two baskets by Sheehan and a third from Doherty iced the decision for the once-beaten Big Green.

Dan Sheehan led all scorers with 13 points, Mark Doherty added 12, and Robbie Pauline chipped in 4 points for Dartmouth.

Also playing well for the victors were Joe Flosman, Eric Friedenson, Stu Leinson and Tim Meehl.

Greg Hopwood sparked the Wolfpack rally which made it close, and he finished the game with 11 points.

Tom Deleire netted 4 points, Paul Oshan 3 and Mark Patti 2 for N.C. State, while other standouts were Rob DiTroia and Mike Morris.

Villanova, 22-12

Holy Cross held Villanova to its lowest point total of the season, but the Crusaders were off in their own shooting and paid the price.

Villanova led 4-1 after one quarter, 14-4 at halftime and 20-6 after three periods.

Tom Lutz paced the balanced Wildcats' attack with 8 points, John Terrion netted 6, Matt Ostrowski 4, Paul Valcourt 2 and Jon Yezerski 2.

Terrion also contributed several steals, Yezerski was a defensive stalwart and dished out a number of assists, Jay Trepanier rebounded well, and Greg Harris played a strong floor game.

Lisa Marcella did a fine defensive job on Tom Lutz, holding him well below his 15.0 per game average, and she also notched five points for HC prior to fouling out.

Chris Comparato scored 4 last quarter points, Scott Kelly had a basket, and Kevin Bardsley swished a free throw.

Steve Gemmell and Rich Napolitano were other Holy Cross standouts.

Harvard, 46-13

Divisional scoring leader Tim Perry (136 points) poured through 27, outscoring the entire BC team as the Crimson ran roughshod over the Eagles.

Tom Novelline (5), Perry (4) and Rich Bourdelais (3) combined for all the points, as Harvard bolted to a 12-2 first period lead, and Perry added seven in the second quarter when the score jumped to 20-2.

Perry swished 14 third period points to put the game out of sight.

Joe Hart countered with six markers in the final stanza for Boston College, but the deficit was too large to overcome.

Novelline and Dave McGuire popped in 6 points apiece for the winners, Mike DiMeo netted 4 and Bourdelais 3.

Hart finished with 8 points, Charlie Lowe 4, and John Tateosian contributed a free throw for BC.

Steve Colitz and Chip Dubois were other Harvard standouts, while Lydia Wise and Bob Manning played well for Boston College.

Dartmouth, 35-30

Dartmouth survived another one-man show by Tim Perry of Harvard, clinching this victory when Mark Doherty calmly swished a pair of insurance free throws with eight seconds to play in the game.

The lead seesawed several times during the first three quarters, with neither team able to open up more than a four-point advantage.

Dartmouth clung to a slim 12-9 edge at halftime, and the Big Green held a slim 22-20 lead after three periods.

Mark Doherty took personal control of the game in the late going, netting nine clutch points during one three-minute stretch as Dartmouth built a seemingly comfortable 33-26 lead.

But Perry retaliated with two consecutive buckets to make it 33-30.

Possession then changed hands several times with no scoring, and Perry eventually fouled out in the final minute.

Doherty was fouled with 0:08 left, and his two charities iced the win.

Mark finished with 19 points, including 11 in the final quarter, and he delivered on several pretty drives to the hoop.

Dan Sheehan also reached double figures with 14, while Robbie Pauline swished a pair of first-half free throws.

Stu Leinson was the defensive star for Dartmouth, guarding Perry in pesky fashion after all other attempts to stop him had failed.

Perry poured through 27 of his team's 30 points, while Rich Bourdelais added the other basket, and Mike DiMeo a free throw.

John Terrion hooped 9 points, center Tom Lutz 7, John Nuzzo 5, Greg Harris 4, Paul Valcourt 2, Matt Ostrowski 2 and Mike Melia a free throw.

Holy Cross to this pulsating victory over North Carolina State.

It marked the second OT triumph for the Crusaders in the last three games, as they edged Harvard 24-17 two weeks ago.

Greg Hopwood scored three buckets as the Wolfpack took a 6-2 first quarter lead, and N.C. State clung to an 11-9 halftime edge and 16-13 advantage after three periods.

However, The Cross began hitting its free throws in the fourth quarter and moved ahead 21-19 in the closing seconds.

Hopwood calmly swished a pair of clutch free throws with one second to play in regulation, tying it 21-21 and forcing overtime.

The teams battled through a two-minute OT with neither scoring, setting up the sudden-death period and Comparato's game-winning fieldgoal.

Comparato paced Holy Cross with 12 points, Lisa Marcella added 7, Steve Gemmell had a first period fieldgoal, and Kevin Bardsley swished two fourth quarter charities.

Hopwood was practically the entire show for N.C. State with a game-high 17 points.

Paul Oshan and Mark Patti chipped in key fourth period baskets, while other standouts were Rob DiTroia and Jon Ruben.

three goals Wednesday, as Olympic Sport Shot defeated M & M Canopy 3-1 at Phillips Academy. Taylor Ongaro scored M & M's goal assisted by Jon Anderson and Jack Sweeney. Bart Cahill's goaltending shut out M & M's league scorer Jack Sweeney for the first time this season.

New Indian Ridge
Country Club 4
Olympic Sport Shop 4

New Indian Ridge Country Club and Olympic Sport Shop battled to a 4-4 tie Sunday at Brooks School, in a showdown of first place teams.

Hughie Maginnis opened the scoring for New Indian Ridge with Lukas Wennick assisting. After Sean Tetler pulled Olympic even, Bobby Smith intercepted on Olympic clearnain pass and ifred a shot past Kevin Parisi to put New Indian Ridge back on top. Mark Dorsey deflected Mark Needham's shot from the point, on the power play, to give New Indian Ridge a 3-1 lead. Olympic stormed back to tie the score 3-3 on goals by Tetler and David Sopo. New Indian Ridge regained the lead on Mark Needham's unassisted goal early in the third period. Late in the period Tetler scored his third goal of the game to deadlock the score at 4-4.

The final minutes of the game featured great defense by both teams. Parisi thwarted Needham on a breakaway bid while Tim Higgins, Dave Hennessey, Andrew Osborne and Mike Keyes kept the Olympic attack at bay to preserve the tie.

M & M Canopy 5
Andover Jade 3

M & M Canopy recorded their first victory of the season Sunday at Brooks School, with a 5-3 victory over the Andover Jade.

Taylor Ongaro poked Jack Sweeney's rebound past Tom Dean to give M & M the early lead. Matt Adams and Rob Moody combined to tie the score at 1-1. League leading scorer Jack Sweeney scored the hat trick to give M & M a 4-1 lead. Ian Anderson made it 5-1. M & M with assists going to Mike Pierod and Jeff Leonard. Matt Adams, assisted by Chris McAnally, scored the Jade's second goal and Greg Kinsky sent Tom Sheehan in alone for the final tally.

Two Teams Remain Undefeated

By Rick Harrison

Christ Church B ripped Ballard Vale United A, 36-10, while West Parish B squeezed past Baptist 16-13 in overtime, keeping those two winners undefeated atop the Andover Church Basketball League Intermediate "Blue" Division.

In other divisional play, once-beaten South belted St. Augustine E, 36-2, Christ Church A nudged St. Augustine F 10-9 in overtime, Ballardvale B dumped St. Robert's D, 15-10, and St. Robert's E topped West Parish C, 28-10.

The results left Christ B and West B at 5-0, while South and St. Robert's E are just a step behind at 4-1.

St. Robert's E, 28-10

St. Robert's E, winning its fourth straight game after a season-opening setback to West B, raced to a commanding 20-4 halftime bulge against West C.

Gerry Nassif led the victors with 8 points, six of them in the first quarter, while Chris Sapuppo, Larry Middleton and Chris Concermi chipped in 6 points apiece.

Steve Veilleux swished a second period basket to complete the St. Robert's E assault.

Mike DeMeo was once again top gun for West Parish C with 6 points. Heather Paro contributed a first quarter fieldgoal and Leo Gravelle a fourth period basket.

Also playing well for West were Dave Cox and Kurt Nickerson.

Christ A, 10-9 (OT)

Beau Jones swished three foul shots in OT to boost Christ Church A to its taut 10-9 decision over tough-luck St. Augustine F.

Chris Boyle pocketed a fieldgoal for St. Augustine just prior to the overtime buzzer, cutting the deficit back to one point, but time ran out.

St. Augustine followed three second quarter points by Drew Dunn to a 5-2 halftime lead, but C-C battled back in the third period on a Rob Beanland fieldgoal and a free throw by Andy Frost.

Jeff Smith hit a bucket for St. Augustine in the fourth stanza, but Frost countered with a pair of foul shots to force overtime.

Christ A won it from the free throw line, converting six charities to just one for St. Augustine F.

Beau Jones led all scorers with five points, while Andy Grant and Chris Scott also played well for C-C.

Chris Boyle paced St. Augustine with 4 points, and defensive stalwarts included Ray Rourke, Jeff Holmes, Mike Lane and Brian Costello.

West Parish B, 16-13 (OT)

Divisional scoring leader Tim Boudreau (90 points) broke a 13-13 deadlock with a fieldgoal and free throw in overtime, keeping West B perfect at the expense of hard-luck Baptist.

Baptist is now a deceptive 2-3, having lost two earlier games by one and three point margins.

West B led 8-7 at halftime and 13-9 after three quarters, but Baptist tied it at the end of regulation with two buckets and solid defense in the fourth period.

Both teams had numerous chances to win the game in regulation, but shot after shot rolled off the rim in the closing two minutes.

Tim Boudreau broke the tie late in OT by swishing a free throw, and moments later he scored the insurance basket following a mid-court steal.

Boudreau led all marksmen with 13 points, Robbie Barnard added a pretty driving lay-up, and Rich Dunn swished a key free throw for West B.

Defensive standouts in the tough, aggressive game were Robbie Thompson, Austin Henderson, Tony Andon and Boudreau (six steals). Dunn also pulled down numerous rebounds.

Dave Hughes played another outstanding all-around game for Baptist, flipping in 9 points and quarterbacking the attack.

Craig Sorrie and Bobby Mattes contributed baskets for Baptist, while defensive stars were Hughes, Greg Mattes, Dennis Gallant, Jeff Ashworth and Dave Sorrie.

Christ B, 36-10

Christ B continued to roll on undefeated, outscoring Ballardvale A 28-2 over the middle two quarters enroute to its convincing victory.

Roger Fisk and Glen Livermore powered the attack, hitting double figures with 12 and 10 points respectively.

Steve Blair chipped in 5 points, Eric Anderson 4, Allan Gable 4, and Billy Earnshaw flipped in a free throw for the co-leaders.

Cindy Conner and Jeff Znamierowski guided the BU offense with 4 points apiece, while Mickey Conner stuffed a fourth quarter basket.

Steve Smith, Rich Brouillard and Dave Bean contributed fine floor games for United.

South, 36-2

South, whose only loss to date was a tough 25-21 decision to Christ B, placed seven players in the scoring column enroute to its convincing victory over St. Augustine E.

Phil Stocking emerged as the top marksman with 12 points, while Scott Lattanzio fired through six of his 8 markers in the second period.

Adding 4 points apiece were Jeff

Girls' Hoop League

The Department of Community Services started its Elementary School Girls' Basketball League on Saturday, Jan. 19 at the Bancroft School. Six teams took the floor to play their season openers.

In the first game of the day, the over-all team talent of the Bancroft Bullets proved to be too much for the Jets as the Bullets won 22-0. Seven Bancroft players contributed to the victory with Kelly Edwards being the high scorer with 6 points, Deqna Bardetti and Chantal Pierrat had 4 points each and Susan Sofia, Dorothy Nelson, Melissa Johnson, and Christina Gargalowitz all adding one hoop.

The second game saw a hard fought battle between the Blazers of Lawrence and the Doherty Dribblers with the Blazers sneaking out a win 12-9. The top shooter for the Blazers was Ann Hidalgo with 6 points. Linda Boucher and Martha Castillo added 2 points each. The most outstanding player for the Dribblers had to be Dana Leith as she scored all 9 points for her team.

The third and final game of the day had the Sanborn Super Sonics facing off against the Shawsheen Red Hots. The scoring balance of the Supersonics again proved to be the deciding factor as six players combined to give the Supersonics an 18-8 victory. The high scorer for the Red Hots turned out to be the lone scorer as well as Shelly Rocky pumped in all 8 points. High Scorer for the Supersonics was Ronnie Kovnek with 8 points.

Andover Hockey Association

Squirt "A" Team

Wilmington League

Andover 1, Cambridge 1

Continuing to show steady improvement, Andover tied a Cambridge team which had easily defeated them earlier this season. Either team might have won the game handily, but both suffered from bad breaks at the wrong times, and sharp defense by the opponent at the right times. In goal for Andover, Jim Berberian showed steady concentration, and the only puck to get past him was a second period tip shot, screened by his own defenseman. In front of the Cambridge net, bad bounces and barely errant passes, shots and tips, along with good defensive plays, repeatedly frustrated excellent play by Brent Raftery, Bob Stoltz, Mike Nelligan and Kyle McCabe. Mark Neaves, Chris Sapuppo, Steve Donovan and Matt Alden started many scoring rushes and crossing passes, but effective Cambridge defense kept Andover off the board until midway in the third period. Then Matt Alden grabbed a loose pick in front of the Cambridge net, after Chris Sapuppo had kept two defensemen from getting control, and got off a partially saved shot which slid behind a sprawling goalie, to tie the game. Early in the first period, Sapuppo was tripped going in along on a break, and was denied on the ensuing penalty shot. Throughout the game Peter Trede, Matt Young and Mark Berberian were solid on defense.

After the game, Coach Fran Ferrara announced the winners of the recent raffle, and presented awards to the players who had sold winning tickets. David McCarthy won the color TV. A Sheraton Gift Certificate of $125 went to Gabe Borcielo, a $50 Kaps Certificate to Alease Bruce. George Wallace of Westwood won the Capital Distributing Company basket of wines. A $25 Sport Shop Certificate was won by the Heiter family, and the $25 MacCartney's Gift Certificate was won by Y. E. Tao.

Squirt "B" Team

Danver League

Andover 2, Revere 1

The Squirt B's played their best game of the year in defeating Revere, the top team in their division. Revere scored their only goal late in the first period, from some fine work in close. Chris Hansberry in goal denied everything else Revere could throw at him throughout the game, kicking out tough screen shots, saving several breakaways, and keeping his team in the game until the third period, when they were able to capitalize. Throughout the game, forward lines including Steve McSweeney, Glenn Farnham, Duke McNamara, John Gilmartin, Boug Blezinski, Tom Tormey and Dana Forbes, made strong rushes into the Revere zone to set up scoring chances. Mark Duncan and Andy Jowett provided steady defense, with help from Brent Raftery, Mike Nelligan, Joey Lyons and Bob Stoltz, all of whom shared duties on defense as well as the forward line.

After two period of barely holding their own and being held off, Andover scored two goals to take the game. First, Tom Tormey got a bouncing puck in front of the net, and in heavy traffic stuffed it under a harried Revere goalie. Then near the five minute mark, McNamara cleared a Revere scoring bid to Duncan in the corner. Mark shot a long and perfect lead pass to Bob Stoltz who was breaking across the blue line. Bob made a move on one man and then outraced two defenders, holding off one at the last second to lift a wrist shot into the far corner of the net for the winning goal.

Pee Wee B's

Andover 4 — Ipswich 1

The Pee Wee B's took over sole possession of third place in the Danvers Twin Rinks League with a solid 4-1 win over Ipswich Monday night. Mark Paskowsky led the way with a goal and an assist. Andover controlled play throughout most of the game, but when Ipswich did apply occasional pressure goalies Kenny Young and David Barry came up with the saves.

Paul Fuchs opened the scoring in the first period, finishing off a play begun in the Andover zone by defenseman Matt Shine. Matt stole an Ipswich pass and fed the puck along the boards to Mark Paskowsky who moved down the left wing and fed Paul who was parked in front of the net. Ipswich had a few rushes in the period but they were ably handled by defensemen Tommy Herling and Shannon McCabe. Andover's second score came midway through the second period when David Young finished off a beautiful solo rush by putting one by the Ipswich goaltender. Forwards Billy Bruno, Larry Prestia and Chris Madden each had solid bids turned away in the period. Andover's third goal came at the 6:40 mark of the third period when Ronnie Forbes scored on a penalty shot called after an Ipswich defenseman fell on a loose puck in the crease. The score was well deserved because Ronnie and linemates Timmy Donovan and David Young had kept pressure on Ipswich all night. Mark Paskowsky scored Andover's fourth goal, putting in a rebound of a Brian Gibson shot. Brian had picked up a Jeff McNeil pass and led a rush into the Ipswich zone. Ipswich's final flurry was halted by solid defensive work turned in by John Gangi and Sandy MacNeish. Everyone on the team contributed to this well deserved win.

Manchester 4 — Andover 0

Andover's Pee Wee B's played one of their best games of the year on Saturday, but lost to the Manchester (N.H.) Flames 4-0. Goalie David Barry and Defenseman Matt Shine turned in outstanding efforts. The contest was pretty evenly played through the first period which ended 0-0. Forwards Ronnie Forbes, Paul Fuchs and Billy Bruno applied some offensive pressure in the period but could not score. Manchester's thrusts were turned back by Andover's defensemen, led by John Gangi and Matt Shine. The flames finally scored mid-way through the second period. The goal came from a scramble in front after a flurry of David Barry saves.

Andover's offense was held in check during most of the period, but Jeff McNeil, Mark Paskowsky and Chris Madden each gave Manchester's goalie and defensemen some anxious moments. Manchester then scored twice within a minute, despite good work by defensemen Brian Gibson and Shannon McCabe. The second period ended with Manchester leading 3-0. Manchester scored only once in the third period, as Andover goalie Kenny Young followed the pattern set by David Barry in the first two periods, making several good stops. Timmy Donovan, Tommy Herling and Larry Prestia led an Andover flurry but they could not avoid the shutout. The B's should be proud of their effort in this game.

Camping Show At Pier

America's love for the open road can be both rewarding and inexpensive according to Rick Williams, President of the North East Recreational Vehicles Assn. In an analysis of costs for a family of four about to embark on a two week trip to Florida, Williams stated that driving to Florida in a recreational vehicle or mobile home will cost about $800 while flying there will cost over $2800.

He broke the cost down as follows: gasoline — round trip about $400; tolls, propane gas for heating and cooking, oil, etc., about $30; overnight at trailer parks on road and in Florida $100; meals for entire trip cooked in vehicle $225; an approximate cost about $800.

The cost for this same family of four flying to Florida would amount to over $2800 according to this cost breakdown: starting with the super-saver fare at $210 each the air fare would be $840; cabs and miscellaneous would add another $25; car rental at destination about $200 for the two-week period; hotel rooms for two weeks — two rooms at $50 each per day would total about $1300; and to that the cost of restaurant meals plus tips and extras another $600 and the total cost could very well amount to over $2800, making such a family vacation well out of the reach of the average family.

Williams is one of the major exhibitors at the 14th annual New England Camping and Trailer Show held at Commonwealth Pier Exhibition Hall thru Jan. 27. The theme for this year's show is "See America the Beautiful."

Show hours are Monday thru Saturday, 1 to 10:30 p.m. and Sunday, 1 to 8 p.m.

Bills Aimed At Cleaner Water

By Polly Bradley

An adequate and clean water supply for Massachusetts no longer can be taken for granted. "During the past two years, 22 communities have suffered contamination of public or private water supplies," according to the Special Legislative Commission on Water Supply, "and an equal number have experienced contamination incidents which had the potential to affect water supplies."

The Special Legislative Commission has focused public attention on water supply protection, and safeguards for vulnerable water supplies are among the most important bills scheduled for consideration by the Legislature in 1980. Major proposals include:

MDC Water System Management — Would permit communities to augment MDC supplies with local sources, provide for comprehensive planning, and prohibit new communities from joining the MDC until average yearly MDC water usage is below the safe yield of the system.

Conservation — Would give financial assistance to cities, towns, and districts for water conservation demonstration projects and require installation of water-conserving plumbing fixtures in new construction or replacement of old plumbing.

Water Supply Protection — Would protect public and private water supplies from contamination by gasoline and petroleum products, toxic chemicals and salt.

Assistance to Communities — Would provide for help with municipal financing and technical assistance to communities facing water supply problems, particularly those created by chemical contamination.

During the 1979 session of the Legislature, several acts were signed into law which will begin to create a program to improve water supply management in the state.

The major chapters of the Acts of 1979 which will work to protect water supplies are:

Ch. 800 — Groundwater Survey Loan Act of 1979 — Establishes a $5 million program for aquifer identification and assessment, with a $2.5 million state bond issue providing matching funds for a potential $2.5 million in United States Geological Survey funds.

Ch. 805 — Water Supply System Rehabilitation Loan Act of 1979 — Provides $10 million in 50-50 matching funds to help communities and districts in rehabilitation of deteriorating water systems.

Ch. 704 — Massachusetts Hazardous Waste Management Act — Although not, strictly speaking, a water supply measure, this act will protect the commonwealth's surface and underground water supplies by providing for control and management of hazardous waste generation, transportation, storage, treatment, and disposal.

Older Americans Traveling More

Traveling seems to be developing into a great American pastime for young and old alike. Older travelers seem to be more and more prevalent throughout the world. One group that assists people over the age of 55 years in planning trips, is the American Association of Retired Persons. Otherwise known as AARP, the American Association of Retired Persons is a non-profit, national organization, which shares a staff and program with the National Retired Teachers Association. Members include about 25 percent of all Americans over the age of 55. Dues are only $3.00 a year.

In 1958 the travel program started with 185 people participating in it, and now about 50,000 persons a year travel with AARP groups. The places they visit are first checked out by the coordinator of the program so that trouble spots may be avoided. The coordinator, Mrs. Ruth Lana, says "our people know that we aren't going to take them into danger." According to her the average age of the AARP traveler is around 70 years old. The travelers often find security in tour groups. In the event that a traveler becomes sick during the trip, the association handles all the hospital and doctor bills and flies them home as soon as they are ready to travel again.

Robert Dunn of Grand Circle Tours in New York, has been AARP's exclusive tour operator for 22 years, and he feels that older travelers are different because they know exactly what they want to do and are aware of their own physical and financial limitations. He says that they usually have more time to plan their trips well and often do.

According to Edward Camara of Paragon Tours, a company specializing in bus tours located in New Bedford, the senior citizens segment of Paragon's business is booming and continuing to grow at 15 percent per year. Senior citizens are often attracted to these tours due to economic and security reasons.

FUTURE, YES — INFINITY, NO

If you are a househunter, no doubt you already have some preconceived notions about the fundamental requirements of your new home. Here's a thought to consider which may help facilitate the image of your new home's "master plan" as well as your long range financial planning.

Consider the stage of your family life, and how it should change within the next five or ten years. As your family numbers decrease by means of vocation, campus living, and marriage, so will your space requirements. Don't imagine that your task is to find a home in which you will live happily all the rest of your days. A home is not forever. For perfectly sound reasons, such as advancing age, changing career prospects, changing family size and requirements, people tend to move on, often in less than ten years. So plan for the foreseeable future — not for infinity.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

Colonial Heritage

As you look about neighborhoods that we have built, such as "Carriage Chase", you will see that our homes for the most part have a Colonial Heritage. They display good taste, attention to detail, the warmth and character of Early American architecture.

price rises, Clark said, and appropriations to cover them were made in the fiscal 1981 budget.

The cost of liquid asphalt, another petroleum product, rose 10 percent, which will effectively reduce the amount of paving which can be done under the fiscal 1981 budget. Rising costs of repair parts and other supplies pushed up the public works budget by about 20 percent on average, Clark said.

In the budget message which precedes the printed budget, Clark said the quality of services available in town and community pride are both affected by contributions made by the school administration and the town staff. The budget presents a request for funds which are, in the administrator's views, necessary "to enable the continued delivery of quality municipal and educational services. We do not support a dismantling of a productive town and school system."

A reorganization of town government "along more functional lines" has taken place, with the implementation of a town computer, formation of a department of finance and budget, and a department of community development and planning.

"Despite these reorganization improvements," Clark said, "they are but the first step to more adequately addressing the substantive issues of quality services and developing a stronger community."

Clark called for managing the growth of Andover, particularly in the next ten years when the town will stop being a "growth" community and becomes "mature." The central business district on Main Street is most important to this growth, and the town has some potential influence on the development of that area.

The school building project may serve as a catalyst for the consolidation of town and school offices in one building: East Junior High.

This consolidation would leave town hall open for other uses. Decisions about East and the town hall, Clark said, will play a significant role "in shaping the quality of a focal point in Andover."

An article is proposed for the warrant to fund preliminary architectural consultation on converting East to a town hall/school administration facility.

Also stemming from the school building project, Clark said, is a concern to "improve upon our management and care of municipal facilities." The first step, he said, is to determine how existing facilities should be used.

To insure productivity and efficiency in town budget analysis, a computer and director of finance and budget have been added, but because of time needed to set up the computer, "little budget analysis has been undertaken to date."

Clark explained that he asked for management studies, computerized record keeping and additional fire and police personnel. According to the manager, "increased supervision and accountability for performance is needed both in public works and police."

Clark called for better personnel administration which "we continue to improve properly administer." Cost of personnel represents more than half of the budget, Clark said.

The town needs to take more management proposals to the bargaining table, coordinate town and school labor negotiations, and better investigate workman's compensation and unemployment claims. Expertise in Civil Service law and familiarity with federal equal opportunity requirements and employment practices are also needed, he said. Training programs designed to improve the functioning of the town and school departments are needed, Clark said.

To achieve these objectives, Clark proposed hiring a personnel administrator to be shared by the town and the school department.

Sources Of Electricity

Throughout the U.S., 44 percent of all electricity is generated from coal, 16.5 percent from oil, 14 percent from natural gas, and 13 percent from nuclear and hydroelectric plants.
